FORDHAM PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Bronx New York

DEDICATION

Ave et Vale Maria

O Guiding Light of Fordham Prep
Whose love illumed the obscure step
Your son, devoted in study and prayer
has pursued;

O Mystical Rose whose fragrance of grace
Has kept this school a holy place,
As a family, with loyalty, kindness,
love imbued;

O Mother mine who heard the plea
Of a son in need and answered me;
I thank you in parting and pray thee
Mary again;

That the truth and love of Fordham Prep
Abide with me through every step
Of the narrow and difficult passage to Heaven. Amen.

—John Amandolare '55

OUR LADY OF THE PREP

Foreword

Throughout these pages appears the seal of Fordham Prep—a multipartite symbol of the many facets that happily combine in the wonderful unity that is our "Alma Mater." That we may always be united in her memory and spirit, we present these pages.

The crest of Loyola is a heraldic symbol expressing generosity and loyalty. A fitting emblem for the Society of Jesus and its teachers, religous and laymen, who have so generously devoted to our formation their learning and their lives.

The lofty flight of the eagle, depicted on our seal, reminds us as we leave the Prep, that we "are born for higher things," that we have a duty to expand the vision given to us, of life's meaning and our eternal goal.

FRESHMAN YEAR

June 16, 1955, the termination of our high school careers and the reward of four years of persistent effort, has arrived. Now those four years are just memories, but ones that the passage of time will never erase. It seems only yesterday that we opened the door of Hughes Hall. During the first assembly in the Prep gym we lined up to "size position" and met Father Shea, who was soon to mold us into Fordham Prep gentlemen. Rising a bit, we were soon introduced to the first declension in Latin and algebra's painful unknowns. Then came our first report card and the voice of Father Matthews saying, "There is no substitute for study." Football blew in with the fall winds but neither rain nor storm dampened our spirits. In mid-October "The Fleet's In" dance found some of our ships sinking, with the parent-teacher meeting scheduled for the same evening. January soon followed and with it the mid-terms. Our ranks slimmed and we began the second semester with a new sense of belonging, for we had proved our worth. Wearing out the gym floor we experienced that infamous event called "recess jug," while at the assemblies in Collins we wore out our hands while learning that "There is only one type of applause . . ." That February, on the eve of Washington's birthday, we patriotically danced to the brass of "The Spirit of '76." During May we dedicated ourselves to the Blessed Mother while also petitioning sunny skies for the boatride, the big event for us as well as the upperclassmen. June found us meeting the challenge of the Province Exams by burning the midnight oil feverishly. Thus we turn the page of our first year at the Prep.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

With a year behind us, we are now an accepted part of the Prep. No longer were we low men on the totem pole. We greeted the old familiar faces and were promptly introduced to the new ones. Father Farricker had replaced Father Matthews as Principal and class 1-H had disappeared. Some of us took to following Xenephon in the mountains, while others joined the ranks with Mr. Shiels in German, and that year Mr. Kelly, S.J. gave us a dramatic interpretation of "Letter from a Stranger." Then we dusted off our sombreros and attended our first dance as sophomores, "The Road to Rio." Lydia and Lucy made the headlines in "The Rivals," while at Christmastime some of us joined Mr. Hanish's choristers in singing the beautiful German "Weihnachtslieder." When the midterms ended for the second time in our career, the ranks were trimmed again and the five honor classes had merged into three. That year also Fr. Hennessey succeeded Fr. Reynolds as Student Counsellor. We sailed the seven seas with Mr. Hebron at the helm, while Mr. Holbrook still insisted "The South will rise again." Fr. Hoch joined the Prep faculty after returning from the Philippines, and we were glad to see Mr. Melican return. Those were the days when all students everywhere were deeply indebted to Mike Quill for the short classes and that extra hour's sleep in the mornings. That year the Prep instituted the first "Father and Son Night" which became an immediate success. In May we watched "Erwin" in his gallant but fruitless quest for the right bus, in the Sodality Play. Then came the second boatride and another wonderful time, and soon we said goodbye to geometric theorems and left Caesar and his legions on the other side of the Rubicon, as we headed for a well-earned vacation.

JUNIOR YEAR

Junior year found us wandering through a newly altered Prep, with half our gym converted into classrooms for the seniors. With a new P.A. system installed we soon discovered that the walls had ears. Some of us knuckled down to learning French with Mr. Cascio; or vice versa. 3-B's scientists donned their aprons to do those ever intriguing chemistry experiments with Mr. Fallon. All of us were introduced to the golden-tongued Cicero, and Catiline, the audacious one. This was the year we thought our football team had it, but for the third straight year we bowed in the wake of the 16th Street Cadets. "Command Decision" was a big success, holding the audience spellbound—as well as snowbound. That year, under Mr. McGuire, S.J., our sodality visited several hospitals during the Christmas vacation. We ushered in the new semester with our third Mass in honor of St. Ignatius. Soon after, the Greeks, now weary of the thin mountain air, still found breathing rough, as they took to the engulfing sea with a fellow named Odysseus, the unhappy wanderer. Mr. McHugh signed the Magna Carta dispensing with English notebooks, while many a math class began and ended with Mr. Melican saying, "Get awn to yourself." Social-minded once again ,we also sponsored a new junior dance in addition to the annual feature, the A.C. dance. When the time came for us to be measured for our senior rings, we realized that junior year was nearly over and we would soon be kings of the roost. In May came the traditional devotions and boatride to Indian Point. As June approached, and with it the final exams, we put aside what a young man's fancy usually turns to in the spring to concentrate on getting by unblemished. Soon afterwards the senior rings started flashing and there followed an ever welcome respite for the weary, a thing called a three month vacation. With three years behind us, the home stretch was just beyond those sunbathed summer months.

SENIOR YEAR

"The beginning and the end of every human endeavor," as Father Matthews once said, "is most interesting." We had long since seen the beginning and were now rounding the last turn of our four year career at the Prep. After dreaming for three long years of the day that we could call ourselves seniors, it had come at last. As the final year was begun with the Mass of the Holy Ghost we proudly took our places in the front of the University Chapel. When the school year itself got underway we noticed several significant changes in the curriculum as well as in the boys themselves. In religion, for one, we dispensed with the usual memory work and were now learning to "Answer Wisely." Our introduction to physics as not quite so bright, and we soon saw that simple machines could be very complicated—or was it that our complicated minds could be very simple? Now where was the old gang meeting? Why in the senior room, of course . . . a true oasis, cool, green, and aromatic. As Autumn's glitter invaded the country-side, we took time out from class to turn our minds to God in a four day retreat at Gonzaga. November rolled around and "The Wolves" made their stand in Collins, while in the sports world, Mr. Ososki led his fabulous "Little Rams" through an unbeaten and untied season, conquering the Cadets in the annual Turkey-day tilt. The closing days of November found us clacking our wooden shoes at "Da Klompen Dans." Later we put aside those confusing college applications and our worries over the C.E.E.B. exams to prepare for the mid-terms. Now we were in the home stretch and aware that graduation was almost just around the corner. Superlative was the word for our basketball team as they turned in a winning season under the new coach, Mr. Sullivan. As the days hurried by they became more and more meaningful to us, each one drawing us nearer to the big day. In April the Senior Sodality play once again left us roaring in the aisles, but this year it was our play, our night, and our success. May was a big month for us, with the May talks, the boatride, and our last Prep dance, under a picturesque "Arabian Nights" setting. Then graduation in June and we were no longer Prepsters but Alumni. The next night at the Prom we bade a final, regretful goodbye to the Prep. Thus for four years we had "advanced in wisdom, age, and grace before God and men."

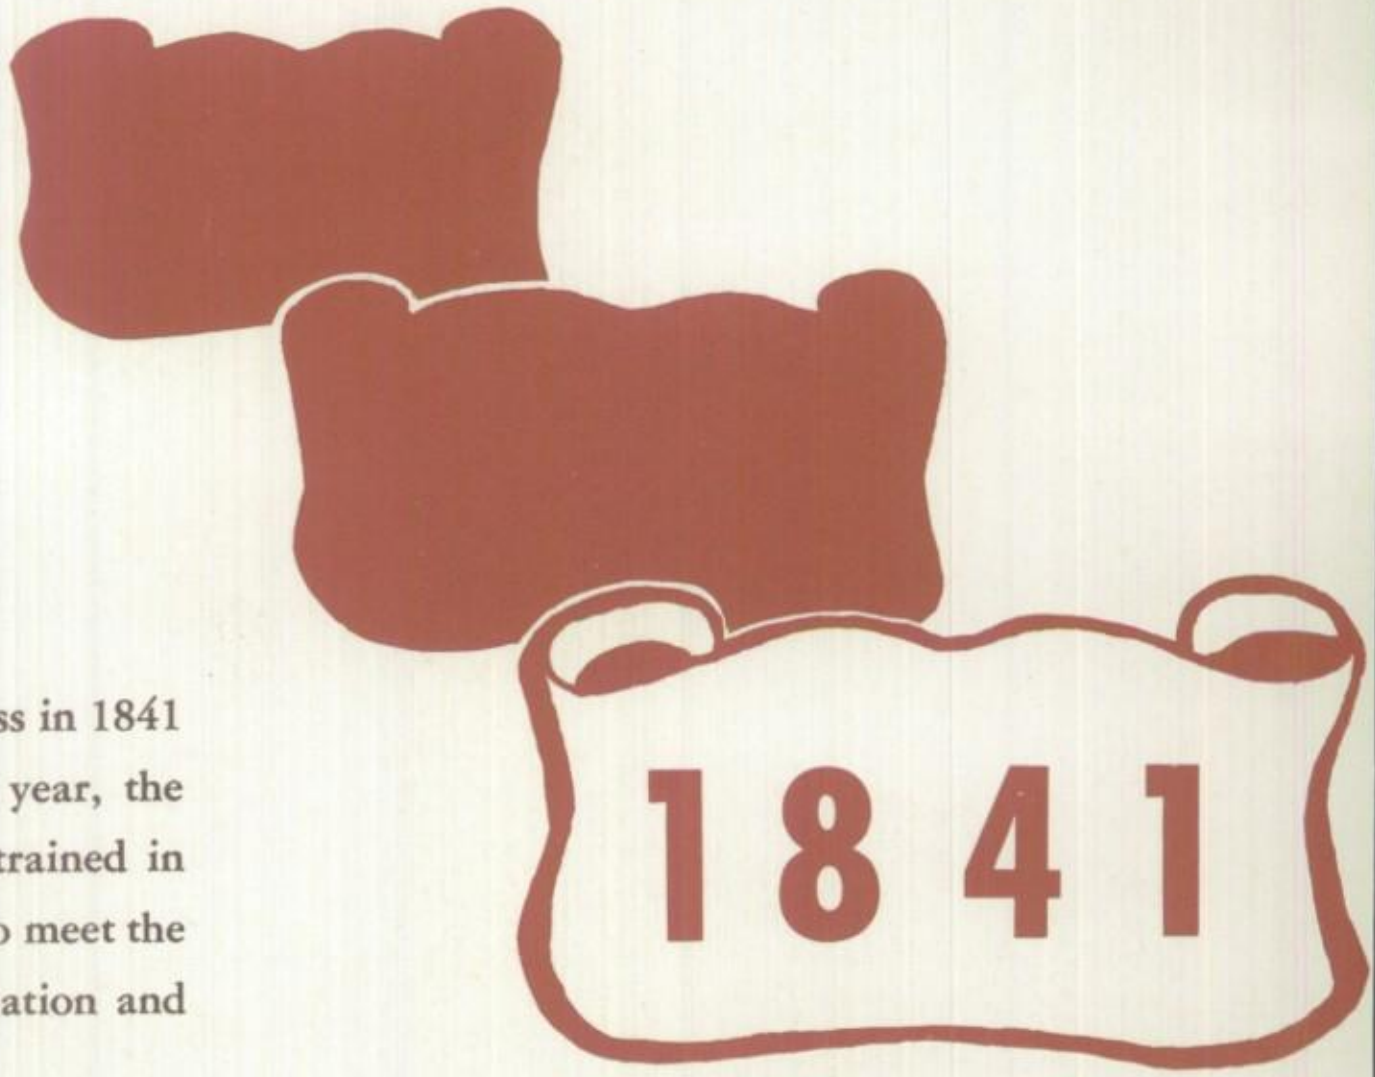
"Forsan et haec olim meminisse juvabit."

During the past four years, many fine teachers have, by word and example, influenced our lives and inspired us with lofty ambitions. We look back with gratitude on the Prep and those who have placed their great confidence in us. May we always be true to the high standards they have set.



Since the first freshman class in 1841 began its climb to senior year, the underclassmen have been trained in the finest Jesuit tradition to meet the multiple horizon of graduation and the years beyond.

The RAMPART

More and Better This Year

RAMPART PRESENTS FACTS

This year the Rampart has continued to bring accurate, first hand accounts of Prep activities to the students. Wtih John Lyons as Editor-in-Chief, Jim Fitzpatrick, Associate Editor ,and Jim Kearney, Sports Editor, the paper has come to be known and relied upon for facts.

During the football season the paper in its new size came out every two weeks.

The paper this year has continued all its popular columns in addition to special features.

From September onward the sports coverage of all varsity and non-varsity sports was excellent. The sports staff of the paper kept the school well informed on the happenings of the winning football team, tennis, track, swimming, basketball and baseball as well as complete coverage of the intramural programs.

The general reporting staff was busy throughout the school year reporting the accomplishments of all the activities of the Prep.

The editorials were often critical, but well taken and quite often stimulated the sometimes dormant school spirit.

Even more noticeable than in previous years was the fact that the glossy edition of the paper had a great many more pictures.

The paper this past year has proven that good writing and a careful layout is vital for a successful paper.

Mr. Herrmann and Mr. Hamilton, S.J., mindful of Editors, Fitzpatrick, Lyons, Kearney.

FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT

A large staff of eager underclassmen has gathered the news of Prep doings over the past year. Their inquisitive search has produced up-to-minute reporting on the latest events in the classroom and the campus-wide activities program. In the next few years, this experienced staff will maintain the high standard of 1954-1955—reporting news of interest to all.

the future, have taken steps to insure capable writers for the coming years.

The editors can be proud of the paper for the past school year and the numerous, capable, and willing reporters can smile with satisfaction because they have helped write some of the brightest pages in the history of the Rampart.

SENIOR STAFF MEMBERS: Seated: Bell, Shalvey, Salmon, Sutliff, Brooks. Standing: Norton, Bryden, Toal, Steinberger, Mazza, Quast, Malanga. Absent: Burns, Hahnen.

SENIORS— BACKBONE OF STAFF

Forming the backbone of the Rampart staff in all departments this year were the seniors. Among the class of '55 comprising the day men of the news staff were Charles Salmon, Gerry Norton, Tom Shalvey, Bob Hahnen and Pat Burns, the general and feature assignment reporters. Dick Bryden, Pete Quast and Jack Toal took and developed the photos which added so much to the format.

PRODUCTION EXCELLS

To Mr. William Herrmann, moderator, Mr. Joseph Hamilton, S.J., assistant moderator, and John Lyons, Rampart Editor-in-Chief and a competent staff goes the credit for the high quality of the Rampart.

For the first time in Prep history, an introductory freshman edition was published. The material had been gathered, written and edited by the editorial staff during their vacation. interest was high among the Freshmen as a result.

As the year went by, the interest did not wane. Moderators and editors somehow managed to meet the ever impending deadlines.

DEBATE

Varsity Debaters: Wade, Salmon, O'Connell.

Last September the Campion Debate team was described as having "great potential." This potential was more than realized in the ensuing months. The first two Catholic Forensic League Tournaments saw the Campionites gain the second and first place trophies. As the months slid by the Prep speakers maintained their victorious pace. Their efforts bore fruit in the Georgetown and Catholic Forensic League Tournaments gaining first place trophies in both. The Prepsters also competed with much success in the St. Peter's Prep, New York State District, and Forensic League Tournaments. As we go to press the Campionites are eagerly working towards bringing more distiction both to themselves and to the Prep in the year's remaining contests.

'54 was "The Year" in football at Fordham Prep, as the Ramlets surged to a perfect season. Under the inspirational guidance of Coach Joe Ososki, the Prepsters felt their way to victories over Brooklyn and Monroe, exploded tremendous power in wins over Seton Hall, Blessed Sacrament, and Saint Agnes, and then climaxed the first perfect season in Prep history with a thrilling Thanksgiving Day victory over the Xavier Kaydets. A mighty Prep line, anchored by Morris, Rybicki, and Siano, held the opposition to less than a TD per game, while opening up daylight for Brennan's end sweeps, Oswald's bucks, Carcoll's plunges, and the accurate passes of Fiorella and Cea to ends Costello and Healey.

A new coach, Mr. Jack Sullivan, and several seasoned ball players combined to make the basketball season a very successful one. In the face of a rugged schedule that featured many CHSAA teams and several road trips, the Ramlets chalked up a creditable 16-7 record. Jack McLaughlin led the way in scoring with a 20 pt.-per-game average, including a record-breaking 35 pt. performance against Brooklyn Prep. Ray McGovern was right behind in scoring, while Bill Kegan and Tom Whelan set up the plays, and Jim Stephens and Frank Costello did yeoman work off the boards. As a climax to a successful season the Prepsters triumphed in the final round of the Westchester Tournament to bring home the first place trophy.

THE RECORD

A small but scrappy J.V. team, composed exclusively of Sophs and Frosh, began its season slowly. An emphasized quick break and fast offense netted 4 straight wins in midseason, only to meet with 3 close losses at the conclusion of the season. Boardman Larry Sturniolo (Capt.) and Larry Manzione (high scorer), and John Power, John Pero, Mike Scarpelli, and Don Walsh gained experience and showed poise and promise that bode well for the varsities of the ''56-'58 seasons.

FRESHMAN

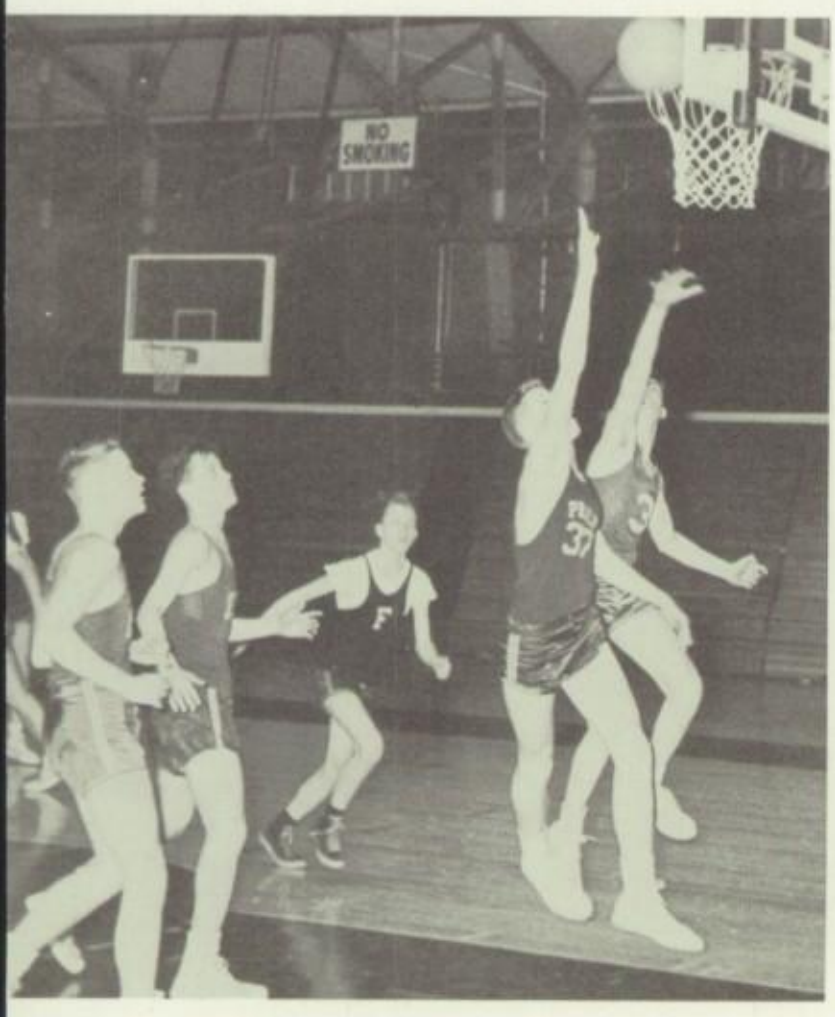
THE RECORD

This year's Freshmen gained an even split of 22 games played against strong opposition. Captain Don Walsh's 20 points a game sparked the early victories, before he was promoted to the J. V.; and the fine shooting and drive of Co-Captains Bill Canavan and Andy McGuire led the team to all its triumphs. Johnny Brubaker, Ed Danowski and Gene Slattery provided the rebounding and hustle needed for a winning season. This spirited team has the talent to ensure many future Fordham successes.



Brubaker lays it up as Slattery follows.

Once more under the leadership and excellent coaching of Mr. Joseph Fox the track team excelled as one of the city's top powers.

The Prep's "Harriers of the Van Courtlandt Hills" attained a spendid cross-country record. The varsity five captured the first place trophy in the Fordham U. Interscholastic Championships and the runnerup honors for the B.M.W. Championships. Imitating the varsity spirit the J.V. and Frosh copped the first place trophies in the Jesuit Cross Country meet.

The indoor season saw the addition of eight more trophies to the track team's huge collection. For the third straight year the team gained first place honors in the Novice Championships.

The B.M.W. meet saw the varsity and junior midgets finish with second place laurels. At the Prep relay carnival the shot-putters set a new meet record and the high-jumpers and sub-midget relay teams also retired trophies. In the C.H.S.A.A. meet at the Garden the maroon was well represented; the varsity two-mile relay team won the Marist Brothers' Memorial trophy, while the sub-midget relay team's new record enabled the Prep to take second place in the Junior-Midget division. Though no record can be entered here, the outdoor season promises to bring its share of Prep track victories and honors.

The Fall of 1954 brought success to the Prep's Tennis Teams.

The varsity won 4 out of 4 and copped the C.H.S.A.A. Doubles Championships. Among the teams that fell to the Ramlets were Loyola, Xavier, Stepinac, and the Fordham College Freshmen.

The J.V. won their only match against our traditional rival, Xavier by a score of 8 to 2.

Although the Fall season is only a training period for the freshmen, they had two matches. They beat the Xavier Frosh and lost to Stepinac.

EPILOGUE

The seal that has appeared throughout this book symbolizes the many elements that combine in the unity that is Fordham Prep. May "Our Lady of the Prep" to whom we have dedicated these pages keep us always united in our memories of the Prep, and faithful to the lessons she has taught us.
